

Space Clearing a home or property is a way of looking at both the physical structure and the energetic envelope to see what is interfering with the health and wellness of the property and its occupants. Clearings are done remotely with maps, floor plans, photos of the property and Google Earth. Much like a computer, a house has old files that need to be deleted to make space for the new energies to come in. Once the hard drive is cleaned up and more space is available, then the new improved files can be downloaded. There follows an uplift of more expansive frequencies, much like opening all the windows while spring-cleaning a home. A new, healthy template now overlays the blueprint of the home.

The process that I use to space clear a home or property has been developed over many years and many clearings.

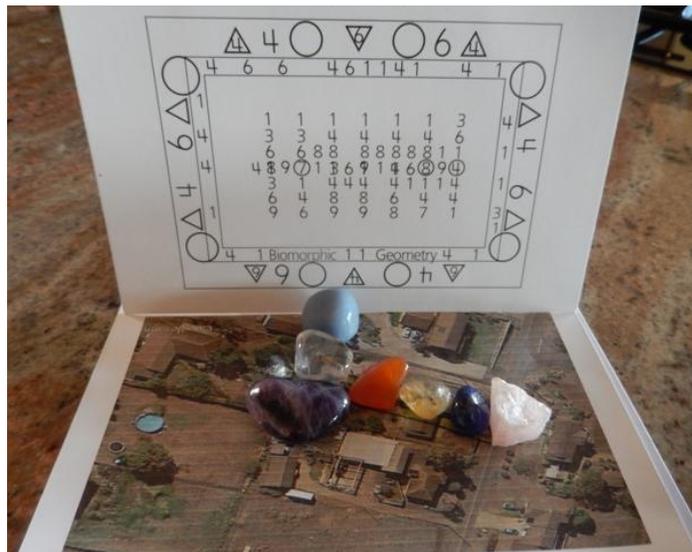

My process also reflects the many changes that have occurred within the matrix of the earth and my own personal deepening connection with Spirit. There is a four-page assessment survey I developed that indicates areas that need clearing and adjusting. The survey includes looking at the flow of chi (energy) and whether it is healthy and flowing or stuck and stagnant, the predecessor energy of who has lived there prior to the current occupants and any emotional deposits that need clearing, any spirit activity or unexplained things that go bump in the night, other numerous forms of interference, the earth energies beneath the house as well as the cosmic grids.

For the actual clearing, I enter a deep meditative space where I work with a constellation of God Light – Angels, Light Beings, Masters and Nature Spirits and Devas. Together we work to clear and transmute the old non-beneficial imprints and patterns, allowing for higher healing Light frequencies to infuse the home and property. Beneficial energetic upgrades are downloaded so the home can be restored to health and well being. All this is done for the highest and greatest good of the home, the property and its occupants.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Barbara Madding professionally space clears homes – healing and uplifting the earth one home at a time. Her space clearing work is now done remotely. She has trained in Black Sect Feng Shui and in Angelic Resonance. She is an expert dowser on earth energies and grid lines. She has first hand experience with many different regional energies having grown up in the Midwest, lived on both coasts and currently resides the Southwest. She has also experienced several foreign countries including England, Ireland, France, Iceland and Israel. For a space clearing of your home or property, contact Barbara through The Way to Balance, LLC or email her at bmadding@cableone.net

Pictured: The start of a property's space clearing & remediation using the EOL® BioMorphic Geometry (BMG) card, Post-Traumatic Stress: Healing Invisible Wounds and various crystals.

NOTE: The Way To Balance, LLC always encourages you to be an empowered and educated consumer, client or patient. Do your homework and look closely at your situation before seeking treatment or medication. Nothing contained herein is intended to diagnose or treat any illness or medical condition, and should never replace a consultation with a qualified healthcare practitioner.